Description

This course examines issues related to the counseling of children. Focus is on the application of counseling theories related to children, cultural competence in the treatment of children, techniques for interviewing children and their families, methods for designing and evaluating treatment plans and the application of counseling related ethical standards and legal requirements. Self-growth experiential activities are associated with the content of this course.

Outcomes

1. Demonstrate the history and theoretical basis for counseling of children.
2. Identify and define counselor skills necessary to counsel children and their families.
3. Define and demonstrate appropriate counseling techniques with children of varying age in both structured and unstructured situations.
4. Differentiate and describe the significance of cultural contexts when counseling children and their families from diverse backgrounds and the counselor's role in relation.
5. Articulate and apply a personal theoretical model of counseling children and their families.
6. Label DSM diagnoses specific to children and be able to distinguish among the diagnoses and their prognoses.
7. Be able to self-evaluate and evaluate others in regard to counseling children.
8. List ethical codes and MO state regulations that relate to counseling children.
9. Describe theories of counseling and counselor roles when working with children.
10. Create and critique treatment plans when counseling children.

Deliverables

Weekly Participation
Each week, students will be responsible for completing assignments via the online classroom or in-class. Activities include, but are not limited to, quizzes, case studies, and essays.

Interview with a Child/Adolescent Counselor (50 pts):
This project has two parts including an interview and a brief reflection paper.

Interview: Students will conduct a telephone or zoom interview with a child/adolescent counselor, preferably where they work. No face-to-face allowed. The interview subject must specialize in and be currently practicing child/adolescent counseling or school counseling (i.e., it will not be acceptable to interview a general counselor who has occasionally worked with kids). Students should email the interview questions to the subject in advance of the interview to allow the subject time to prepare their responses. Students must record the interview and submit it to the instructor.

Reflection paper: Students must write a brief reflection paper (no more than 5 pages) that includes their personal thoughts about the interview and what they learned from it. The paper must include a summary of the interview questions and responses (i.e. do not need to write every word of the subject’s responses- summarize). The summary must include the interview subject’s name, job title, and location (e.g., private practice, school, agency, etc.). Paper will be submitted to the instructor on the due date (listed on the weekly schedule) via Canvas.

Research Project (100 pts)
This project has two parts including a research paper and a presentation.

Research Paper: Students will write a research paper aimed at demonstrating their understanding of the theories and principles of counseling children. Students will select a topic of interest within the field of child and adolescent counseling. Sample topics include: ADHD, Anxiety, Depression, Suicide, Eating Disorders, Self-Harm. A rubric will be provided. Papers must include a brief description of one game, activity or expressive technique utilized with the topic of the paper.

Students are encouraged to check with the instructor to make sure their topic is appropriate. The project should include at least 10 APA style references. Your paper should be 5 pages including title page and references.
Presentation: Students will give a 10-15 minute presentation that conveys their understanding of the topic presented in their papers. Presentations should include PowerPoint. Students should avoid reading word-for-word from notes or PowerPoint (i.e., summarize, know your material). In order to give a comprehensive presentation, you must do the following:

- On the day of the presentation, students must provide a handout based on the topic of their presentation to each of their classmates. The handouts are to include information on the topic that would be helpful to counselors in training.
- Students are expected to give brief presentations of the game, activity, or expressive technique described in their research paper.
- Students will also develop three quiz questions related to their presentation. The three questions should be designed to test the audience on the overarching or key topics in your presentation.

Exams

Exam 1: Mid-Term Exam

Mid-Term Exam: (50 pts) Review Chapters 1-10 of the Counseling Children textbook -Henderson, D.A. & Thompson, C.L. (2016).

Students will complete a midterm examination. Exam may include but are not limited to, multiple choice, matching, short answer, and essays.

Midterm exam will cover the Reading & Study material for the assigned modules/weeks. The exam will be open-book/open-notes, consist of multiple choice questions. Mid-term exam will cover chapters 1-10. Your exam will be given electronically through google classroom. You will have 90 mins to complete.

Research Paper: Child & Adolescent Counseling Paper (Final Exam)

Research Paper: (50 pts) The topic of the research paper should be focused on an area of family therapy that the student is interested in. The paper will describe the theoretical foundation, as well as counseling approaches and interventions, therapy goals, and applicability to diverse populations. Students must also include discussion of why they feel the selected theory will be beneficial with the child/adolescent population.

References should be peer-reviewed articles from scholarly journals. APA style guidelines and writing are required. The body of the paper should be 6-8 pages in length not including cover and reference page, with a minimum of 8 sources. Each student should meet with me via zoom or email me to your topic for approval.

Class Participation and Attendance: Participation Grade

Class Participation and Attendance: (20 points per class) 180 pts When you have assigned readings due, you are expected to generate questions, reflections, and topics for discussion related to these readings. Please come prepared to these classes with questions or comments over your readings. You will be expected to share these questions/comments in class.

Note: Assignments submitted after the deadline will drop a letter grade.

ALL WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS ARE DUE BY 11:59 p.m. EST ON THE DUE DATE.

While it is important to understand the material in the text, it is crucial that that each student be able to demonstrate the skills cited in each class session.

Course Policies

Self-Awareness, Safety of Disclosure, Appropriate Interpersonal Skills and ACA Code of Ethics:

In the interaction between class members, self-disclosure and personal examination will occur. All interactions fall under the same umbrella of confidentiality as do client/counselor relationships, i.e., what is discussed in the class stays in the class and is not discussed with other students outside of the course or friends. Any violations of the ethical standards will be dealt with accordingly. Maintaining confidentiality is the primary ethical principle of counselors. If a student fails to maintain the confidentiality of clients or classmates, the student risks a failing grade in the course. In addition, the instructor will refer the breach of confidentiality to the Counseling Advisory Committee for disciplinary action of the student.

We will be learning from each other in addition to the text throughout the term. Therefore, it is important that everyone feels safe, comfortable, and free to discuss and elaborate on their thoughts around their developing knowledge and skills. In class, it is important for each of us to be respectful of one another’s positions; relating to others in an empathic manner occurs in class just as with clients. You are encouraged to make your feelings and thoughts known, yet, to do so in a “counselor manner”, i.e., respecting the position of listener while giving voice to your thoughts and using your budding counselor attending skills. This is an opportunity for you to practice and evidence your basic and advanced skills of empathy, warmth, genuineness, and congruence by communicating in a manner consistent with a good counselor. The building of trusting alliances with your classmates is as important as doing so with your clients. Therefore, you will be practicing some of the same skills when participating in class as on your counseling sessions with your potential clients.

Further, openness to supervision and instruction by the instructor can become an issue for some students and is, therefore, emphasized here. Openness to supervision is defined as: accepting supervision—both individual and in class; recognizing your own personal strengths, weaknesses, biases, needs, and beliefs; sensing personal and professional impact on others, both positive and negative; accepting and applying feedback from instructor; seeking out needed experiences, feedback, etc., in a proactive way; and accepting feedback in a non-defensive manner with a professional attitude.

Students who do not evidence openness to supervision and or appropriate interpersonal skills are subject to remediation by the Counseling Advisory Committee at the campus. See the student handbook and or catalog for further detail.

ACA Code of Ethics (2014):

Counselors [Counselor-in-training] have a responsibility to read, understand, and follow the ACA Code of Ethics and adhere to applicable laws and regulations (see C.1.). Students and supervisees have a responsibility to understand and follow the ACA Code of Ethics. Students and supervisees have the same obligation to clients as those required of professional counselors (see F.5.).

Attendance:

The University reserves the right to drop students who do not attend class the first week of the term/semester. The counseling program reserves the right to drop a student who misses two classes or more during the term/semester. Any absence or tardiness in this accelerated program will result in a significant loss of learning. Students are expected to attend all class sessions of every course. Additionally, students are expected to come to class on time, having completed the reading assignments, ask questions and participate in all activities, as well as write at a graduate level. Students coming to class more than 30 minutes late or leaving class early will be considered ‘Absent’ for the class session. It is expected that you arrive to class having an understanding (not just having read) of the reading assignments and prepared to discuss the material in relation to your practicum experience and or pop quiz scenarios presented by the faculty supervisor.

Participation:

Participation is required in all counseling courses. Counselors are often required to lead group counseling, educate large groups on various topics, present in court, and perform public presentations of various types. Students who have difficulty speaking out loud in class, making presentations to the class, and participating in class discussions regularly should consider a different career path or face the potential of being dismissed for lack of performance. Students are subject to appropriate academic penalty for incomplete or unacceptable work, or for excessive or unexcused absences (see Course Attendance section for this).

Late work:

Students are expected to complete all assignments in a timely manner. All assignments are due by 11:59p.m. on the due date. If you need assistance submitting an assignment on-time or have any trouble/confusion, please reach out to the Instructor at least 24/48 hours prior to the due date. Assignments turned in after midnight will be considered late.

Personal Use of Electronics in Classroom:

Turn off all cell phones during class unless otherwise advised by the instructor. Social Networks Computer usage in class can only be for note taking or class related activities only. If you are caught on face book or any other social networks, you will be asked to immediately leave class and recommended to student remediation counseling council. This class involves respect and confidentiality, being on the internet during class is very disrespectful and will not be tolerated. In case of emergency during instructional time, please notify instructor via chat. Take all emergency calls outside of class.

Academic Integrity:

All of your work in this class should be original to you and to this class. You are expected to explore, analyze, and discuss the ideas of others, but you must give them proper credit through citations and references. You may continue to explore an area of interest, but you must do new or additional research and writing. Recycling papers from other coursework is not acceptable. According to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association(2001), plagiarism involves presenting the work of another as if it were your own work. It is particularly important that you give appropriate credit to others when you use their work. If you paraphrase someone else’s work, you must also give them credit with a citation. All students are expected to know what constitutes plagiarism and to avoid committing plagiarism in their written work. Plagiarism will not be excused by ignorance on the student’s part. If you believe that you do not have a clear understanding of plagiarism, see your instructor immediately and before any written work is turned in. Honesty is a key trait for counselors. Insure you are evidencing it in and out of class.

Course Attendance

The University reserves the right to drop a student who does not attend the first class. Any absence or tardiness in this accelerated program will result in a significant loss of learning. Students are expected to attend all class sessions of every course. One unexcused absence in this course may result in dropping the student one full letter grade with a second unexcused absence requiring that the student withdraw from the class. If it is too late to withdraw, the final grade will be an automatic F. Students are expected to write at a graduate level and come to class on time, having completed the reading assignments so they are prepared to ask questions and participate in all activities. Students coming to class late or leaving class early will be considered ‘absent’ for that class session unless approved in advance by the instructor.

Participation

Participation is required in all counseling courses. Being prepared to participate in class is equivalent to being prepared to participate in counseling sessions with your clients. Students are expected to come to class having already read the assigned material and completed the assignments. Students are expected to be active participants in the learning process, exhibiting attention, professionalism, and respect during discussions and other classroom activities. These are key behaviors for counselors; ensure you are evidencing them in class.

Additionally, counselors are often required to lead group counseling, educate large groups on various topics, present in court, and perform public presentations of various types. Students who have difficulty speaking out loud in class, making presentations to the class, and participating in class discussions regularly should seek guidance from their advisor about these concerns.

Students are subject to appropriate academic penalty for incomplete or unacceptable work, or for excessive or unexcused absences (see Course Attendance section for this). See the Grading section on individual course syllabi for further information.

Use of Personal Electronic Devices

Turn off all cell phones during class unless otherwise advised by the instructor. Absolutely no: texting, taking of calls, emailing, unauthorized web activity, or social media use during class. If you have a potential emergency brewing during class time and need to be available by cell (sick child, dying relative, suicidal client) you are required to notify instructor at the beginning of class and take any call outside of class. More than one of these events will require a personal meeting with the instructor scheduled for non-class time.

Expectations for writing competency

Writing competency is important in graduate school. As a graduate student and counselor in training, you have a responsibility to the profession and those you will be representing/serving to write professionally. Take this task seriously and consult the Academic Resource Center or enroll in a writing course if you are told you need assistance on writing assignments. The grade penalty will be heavy for lack of simple proofing of grammar, spelling, and APA formatting on all assignments. Please consult the rubric in the syllabus for specific grading impact.

Subjective aspect of grading

The grading of this course includes a subjective component to it based upon the professional experience and expertise of the instructor. The Counseling faculty recognize that counseling skills, counselor effectiveness, and professionalism cannot be assessed in the same manner as academic performance in typical university coursework. Students completing this course should demonstrate marked progress toward the course objectives as noted above as well as be able to write coherently about counseling theories and techniques. Your final grade in this course will reflect not only your academic performance but also your counseling and interpersonal skill development as evaluated by the instructor. It is possible to excel academically and receive a less than satisfactory final grade. Thus, all grades will reflect a combination of objective and subjective assessment.
Self-awareness, safety of disclosure, appropriate interpersonal skills and ACA Code of Ethics

This course is taught in a manner that provides a safe, welcoming and inclusive environment for students of all racial, ethnic, gender identities and variances, sexual orientations, economic classes, ages, ability statuses, and religions. Students are encouraged to use language and communication that is respectful and culturally appropriate.

In the interaction between class members, self-disclosure and personal examination will occur. All interactions fall under the same umbrella of confidentiality as do client/counselor relationships, i.e., what is discussed in the class stays in the class and is not discussed with other students outside of the course or friends. Maintaining confidentiality is the primary ethical principle of counselors and violations are serious.

We will be learning from each other in addition to the text throughout the semester. Therefore, it is important that everyone feels safe, comfortable, and free to discuss and elaborate on their thoughts around their developing knowledge and skills. In class, it is important for each of us to be respectful of one another’s positions; relating to others in an empathic manner occurs in class just as with clients. You are encouraged to make your feelings and thoughts known, yet, to do so in a “counselor manner”, i.e., respecting the position of listener while giving voice to your thoughts and using your budding counselor attending skills. This is an opportunity for you to practice and evidence your basic skills of empathy, warmth, genuineness, and congruence by communicating in a manner consistent with a good counselor. The building of trusting alliances with your classmates is as important as doing so with your clients. Therefore, you will be practicing some of the same skills when participating in class as in counseling sessions with your clients one day.

Further, openness to supervision and instruction by the faculty (or site supervisor) is an important element of counselor development. Openness to supervision is defined as: accepting supervision—both individual and in class; recognizing your own personal strengths, weaknesses, biases, needs, and beliefs; sensing personal and professional impact on others—both positive and negative; accepting and applying feedback from instructor; being proactive in seeking out needed experiences, feedback, etc.; and accepting feedback in a non-defensive manner with a professional attitude.

Students who do not evidence openness to supervision or appropriate interpersonal skills are subject to remediation by the Counseling Advisory Committee at the campus. See the student handbook and or catalog for further detail.

ACA Code of Ethics (2014)

Counselors [Counselors-in-training] have a responsibility to read, understand, and follow the ACA Code of Ethics and adhere to applicable laws and regulations (see C.1.). Students and supervisees have a responsibility to understand and follow the ACA Code of Ethics. Students and supervisees have the same obligation to clients as those required of professional counselors (see F.5.a.).

Institutional Policies

Academic Policies

Academic policies provide students with important rights and responsibilities. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with all academic policies that apply to them. Academic policies for undergraduate students can be found in the Undergraduate Studies Catalog; graduate students should review the Graduate Studies Catalog.

Undergraduate Studies Catalog

The Undergraduate Studies Catalog contains academic policies that apply to all undergraduate students. The academic policies and information section of the catalog contains important information related to attendance, conduct, academic honesty, grades, and more. If you are an undergraduate student, please review the catalog each academic year. The current Undergraduate Studies Catalog is at:

http://www.webster.edu/catalog/current/undergraduate-catalog/ (http://www.webster.edu/catalog/current/undergraduate-catalog/)

Graduate Studies Catalog
The Graduate Studies Catalog contains academic policies that apply to all graduate students. The academic policies section of the catalog contains important information related to conduct, academic honesty, grades, and more. If you are a graduate student, please review the catalog each academic year. The current Graduate Studies Catalog is at:

http://www.webster.edu/catalog/current/graduate-catalog/

Grading

The Grades section of the academic catalog outlines the various grading systems courses may use, including the information about the final grade reported for this class.

Incomplete

There are important policies that govern grades of Incomplete (I), including the circumstances under which Incomplete grades are granted, deadlines for completion, and consequences should the remaining course work not be completed. It is the responsibility of a student who requests an Incomplete to ensure that he/she understands and follows the policies.

Grade Appeals

Instructors are responsible for assigning grades, and student should discuss grade issues with the instructor. Policies and procedures for appealing grades are available in the appropriate catalog.

Academic Honesty Policy

Webster University is committed to academic excellence. As part of our Statement of Ethics, we strive to preserve academic honor and integrity by repudiating all forms of academic and intellectual dishonesty, including cheating, plagiarism and all other forms of academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty is unacceptable and is subject to a disciplinary response. Students are encouraged to talk to instructors about any questions they may have regarding how to properly credit others’ work, including paraphrasing, quoting, and citation formatting. The university reserves the right to utilize electronic databases, such as Turnitin.com, to assist faculty and students with their academic work.

The University's Academic Honesty Policy is published in academic catalogs:

Undergraduate

http://www.webster.edu/catalog/current/undergraduate-catalog/academic-policies.html

Graduate

http://www.webster.edu/catalog/current/graduate-catalog/academic-policies.html

As a part of the University commitment to academic excellence, the Academic Resource Center provides student resources to become better acquainted with academic honesty and the tools to prevent plagiarism in its many forms:

http://www.webster.edu/arc/plagiarism_prevention/

Statement of Ethics

Webster University strives to be a center of academic excellence. The University makes every effort to ensure the following:

- The opportunity for students to learn and inquire freely
- The protection of intellectual freedom and the rights of professors to teach
- The advancement of knowledge through scholarly pursuits and relevant dialogue
To review Webster University's statement of ethics, see the Undergraduate Studies Catalog and the Graduate and Studies Catalog:

Important Academic Resources

Academic Accommodations

Webster University makes every effort to accommodate individuals with academic/learning, health, physical and psychological disabilities. To obtain accommodations, students must identify themselves and provide documentation from a qualified professional or agency to the appropriate campus designee or the Academic ADA Coordinator at the main campus. The Academic ADA Coordinator may be reached at 314-246-7700 or disability@webster.edu.

If you have already identified as a student with a documented disability and are entitled to classroom or testing accommodations, please inform the instructor of the accommodations you will require for this class at the beginning of the course.

Academic Resource Center

Additional support and resources may be accessed through the Academic Resource Center (ARC). Support and resources include academic counseling, accommodations, assistive technology, peer tutoring, plagiarism prevention, testing center services, and writing coaching. Visit www.webster.edu/arc or Loretto Hall 40 on the main campus for more information.

Student Success Portal

Webster University’s Student Success Portal, powered by Starfish, is a communications tool to connect students with faculty members and campus support services. It allows faculty and staff members to communicate with you regarding academic achievements as well as areas where support may be helpful. You may use the portal to contact faculty and staff members for assistance and to arrange meetings. Activity in the portal will be communicated to your Webster University email account. The Student Success Portal is available via your course home page in WorldClassRoom or via Connections. Learn more about the Student Success Portal at http://www.webster.edu/success/students.html.

University Library

Webster University Library is dedicated to supporting the research needs and intellectual pursuits of students throughout the University’s worldwide network. Resources include print and electronic books, journal articles, online databases, DVDs and streaming video, CDs and streaming music, datasets, and other specialized information. Services include providing materials at no cost and research help for basic questions to in-depth exploration of resources. The gateway to all of these resources and services is http://library.webster.edu. For support navigating the library’s resources, see http://libanswers.webster.edu/ for the many ways to contact library staff.

Drops and Withdrawals

Drop and withdrawal policies dictate processes for students who wish to unenroll from a course. Students must take proactive steps to unenroll; informing the instructor is not sufficient, nor is failing to attend. In the early days of the term or semester, students may DROP a course with no notation on their student record. After the DROP deadline, students may WITHDRAW from a course; in the case of a WITHDRAW, a grade of W appears on the student record. After the WITHDRAW deadline, students may not unenroll from a course. Policies and a calendar of deadlines for DROP and WITHDRAW are at:

Student Handbook and Other Important Policies

Student handbook and other non-academic policies may apply to you and may impact your experience in this class. Such policies include the student code of conduct, privacy, technology and communications, and more. Please review the handbook each year and be aware of policies that apply to you. The handbook is available at:

http://www.webster.edu/student-handbook/

Sexual Assault, Harassment, and Other Sexual Offenses

Webster University makes every effort to educate the community to prevent sexual assault, harassment, and other sexual offenses from occurring, and is committed to providing support to those affected when this behavior does occur. To access information and resources or to review the Policy on Sexual Assault, Harassment, and Other Sexual Offenses, visit:

http://www.webster.edu/sexual-misconduct/

Research on Human Subjects

The Webster University Institutional Review Committee (IRB) is responsible for the review of all research on human subjects. The IRB process applies to all Webster University faculty, staff, and students and must be completed prior to any contact with human subjects. For more information on the IRB, visit:

http://www.webster.edu/irb/index.html

Course Evaluations

At the end of this course, you will have the opportunity to provide feedback about your experience. Your input is extremely valuable to the university, your instructor, and the department that offers this course. Please provide your honest and thoughtful evaluation, as it helps the university to provide the best experience possible for all of its students.

Important Technology Information

Connections Accounts

Webster University provides all students, faculty, and staff with a University email account through Connections. Students are expected to activate their Connections account and regularly check incoming University email. Students may choose to have their University email forwarded to an alternate email address. Connections account holders can call the Help Desk (314-246-5995 or toll free at 1-866-435-7270) for assistance with this setup. Instructions are also provided on the Information Technology website at:

http://www.webster.edu/technology/service-desk/

WorldClassRoom
WorldClassRoom is Webster’s Learning Content Management System (LMS). Your instructor may use WorldClassRoom to deliver important information, to hold class activities, to communicate grades and feedback, and more. WorldClassRoom is available using your Connections ID at:

https://worldclassroom.webster.edu/ (https://worldclassroom.webster.edu/)

Webster Alerts

Webster Alerts is the University’s preferred emergency mass notification service, available free to current students, faculty and staff at all US campuses. By registering a valid cell phone number and email address, you will receive urgent campus text, voice mail and email communications. Valuable information concerning a range of incidents affecting you - from weather-related campus closures, class delays and cancellations, to more serious or life-threatening events - are immediately and simultaneously delivered through multiple communication channels. To register for Webster Alerts, visit:
